Guaranteed Issue Life Insurance

Guaranteed issue life policies are designed for people 45-85 that have serious health conditions. They may have been denied or will be denied coverage on standard or simplified issue policies.

Whole Life Insurance

Whole life policies are for qualifying persons aged 0-85. It is permanent insurance that covers you up to age 121

Term Life Insurance

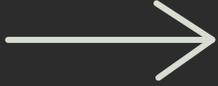

Term life is the complete opposite of whole life. Term insurance is designed to give a great deal of coverage at a low premium. They are used to cover temporary expenses such as a house that needs to be paid off or the upbringing of small children that live in the household

Medicare Advantages

Medicare Advantage plans are all-inclusive Medicare health plans. They provide the standard Medicare A & B coverage along with prescription drugs (Part D) and significantly lower the Medicare costs by giving flat rate copays (Part C).

Medicare Supplement Plan

Medicare supplement plans, or Medigap plans, are designed to cover your portion of Medicare costs. For example, Medicare alone will pay 80% of your medical costs (after you meet your deductibles), leaving you with a financial obligation of 20%.

CUSTOMER TESTIMONIALS

Smith says

I was very confused about Medicare and was being pulled in so many different directions with the phone calls and mail from different companies. Mr. Porter came to my home and really helped me out. He took his time and explained all of the details and made it really easy for me to understand everything and make a decision on what plan would work for me.

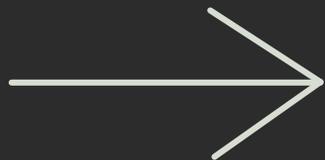

Robertson says

It had been a while since my family had life insurance coverage. We recently experienced a death in the family and had to come out of pocket to cover the funeral costs. I knew then something had to be done so I called Porter. He came out to my home and worked with me to find life insurance coverage for my entire family at a rate that I could afford.

Peggy Jones says

Mr. Porter came to my home and was very courteous and knowledgeable. He helped me to understand the difference between certain policies which gave me clear direction on what I needed to get for my family. I've been with Porter for a number of years now

Thanks!
